Accomplishment

During my role as a Credit Control Officer at Accenture Company Ltd., I successfully managed a subsidiary grappling with severe credit risk. Customers were consistently exceeding their credit limits by substantial margins, and adherence to company regulations by salesmen was inconsistent. To address these issues, I proactively initiated regular meetings, negotiated settlement plans with at-risk customers, and conducted a comprehensive review of credit limits. These strategic efforts significantly reduced credit risk, improved financial stability, and reinforced positive customer relationships within the subsidiary.
